LEGAL ADVOCACY AND OTHER LAW-RELATED EXPERIENCE*AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL (active in Amnesty International since 1977)International Secretariat*LondonGeneral Counsel & Director, Legal Office* (1999-2000)

Principal advisor on legal matters for Amnesty International. Coordinated legal strategy of AI; provided advice on law, policy and international organizations. Represented Amnesty International at the United Nations and other intergovernmental organizations as well as in high-level government meetings. Had responsibility for Legal Office management, planning, priorities and budget; oversaw the legal work of Amnesty's staff and volunteers in London and in AI's United Nations offices in Geneva and New York. A few examples of work during this time:

- Met with UN Secretary-General Kofi Annan re UN role in Sierra Leone, East Timor and Kosovo;
- Headed AI Legal Office during Pinochet extradition hearings;
- Met with members of UN Human Rights Committee (HRC), Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination (CERD), Committee against Torture (CAT) and Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW), and with the UN Special Rapporteurs on violence against women, torture, and extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions;
- Headed AI delegation to Beijing Plus Five, the UN General Assembly Special Session reviewing developments in the five years since the Fourth UN World Conference on Women held in Beijing 1995;
- Represented AI at the UN Commission on Human Rights, Geneva;
- Represented AI at OSCE Human Rights Conference held in Pristina, Kosovo in December 1999, six months after the bombing ended;
- Testified as expert witness before German Bundestag, Berlin, in hearing on refugee status of women fleeing private violence;
- Represented AI in international strategy group on handling post-Pinochet universal jurisdiction cases in meetings in Paris, Amsterdam, London and New York.

Volunteer lawyer for Amnesty International (since the early 1980s). Pro bono activities include:

Mission delegate; served as legal expert on the following Amnesty International visits:

- Research visit to Pakistan, March 1999 (“honor” killings of women; tribal justice system)
Met with human rights lawyers and other activists and their clients and potential clients; prisoners, prison administrators and prison doctor; and sardars (heads of jirgas, the tribal courts).
Wrote the sections on international law in the resulting AI report, Pakistan: Violence against women in the name of honour (AI Index ASA 33/017/1999)
- High-level visit to Malawi, July 1997 (death penalty)
Met with the President of Malawi, and with the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Solicitor General, deputy police commissioners and other officials, traditional chiefs, and with former prisoners of conscience and other members of civil society. At the close of our meeting with the President, he declared a moratorium on executions and commuted all existing death sentences.
- High-level visit to Yemen, June 1996 (primary objective: to secure commitments from the highest authorities to protect against human rights violations including unfair trials, arbitrary detention, torture)
Met with the Prime Minister, Minister of Justice, Attorney General, Minister of the Interior, members of the Human Rights Committee of Parliament, other officials, and with members of civil society, including the founder of the Women’s Studies Department at the University of Sana’a, a group of women lawyers who had established their own law firm, and members of an NGO working to protect the rights of children.
- Research visit to India, June 1996 (full range of AI concerns, with focus on women’s human rights)
In Delhi and Rajasthan, met with members of NGOs working on civil liberties and on women’s human rights, and with members of institutions including the National Human Rights Commission and the National Commission for Women. Goal was to build contacts with national, regional and local non-governmental organizations, in particular those working on women’s rights, to see first-hand the situation on the ground and to research patterns of human rights violations.
