The Conference Series

The Annual Global Conference on Environmental Taxation is part of an annual series of international conferences focussing on issues involved in designing and implementing environmentally related taxes.

The conferences are not intended to advance any particular environmental agenda on an advocacy basis but rather to advance knowledge, understanding and debate.

This is a forum for scholars from different fields, representatives of national governments, the private sector and non-governmental organisations to exchange the latest research on the use of environmentally related taxes and other market-based instruments to advance environmental policy objectives.

A selection of presented papers is published in the Critical Issues in Environmental Taxation Series, Oxford University Press.

Steering Committee

Prof. Hope Ashiabor, Macquarie University
Prof. Janet Milne, Vermont Law School
Prof. Kurt Deketelaere, University of Leuven
Prof. L. Kreiser, Cleveland State University

The Tenth Edition of the Conference

The tenth edition of the Conference taking place in Lisboa (Portugal) shall focus on 'Water Management and Climate Change'.
