

SoRo and Surrounds: Get to Know VLS's Hometown

Wedged between rolling green hills, South Royalton, Vermont may not be world-famous—but it's packed with hidden gems. Here's where to find them.

- 1 VLS's Environmental Law Center is headquartered in historic Debevoise Hall.
- 2 Our go-to co-op, South Royalton Market is filled with quality groceries from near and far.
- 3 Head to First Branch Coffee for the espresso drinks; stay for the tacos and live music.
- 4 Don't miss Worthy Burger's famous patties.
- 5 Local farmers sling goods on the town green each Thursday during Royalton Farmers Market.
- 6 Sample local suds at "nanobrewery" Brocklebank Craft Brewing.
- 7 Follow a forest trail and take a dip at Old City Falls.
- 8 Rent tubes at Sharon Trading Post and float down the White River.
- 9 Hike less than two miles from campus to Kent's Ledge for impressive views of the surrounding hills.
- 10 A group of small farms hosts Feast & Field Market, a weekly gathering with live music and farm-to-table food and drink.
- 11 Summertime-only Bethel Drive-In theater has been showing films al fresco since 1954.
- 12 From karaoke to cribbage tournaments, there's always something going on at friendly Babe's Bar.

Illustrations: Michael Mullan, mullanillustration.com