

Three Essentials of the Electric Grid, Module 3: Legal Essentials

Vermont Law School Summer Session, Term 1

Three Essentials of the Electric Grid, Module 3: Legal Essentials

Class sessions: June 7-10, 2021, 1:00-4:00pm ET (includes 15-min break)

Class location: Online (MS Teams) – Teams channel and class invites forthcoming

Instructor:

Samantha Williams

Midwest Director, Climate & Clean Energy Program

Natural Resources Defense Council

swilliams@nrdc.org

415-533-2060

Class 1: Monday, June 7

The Basics of Electricity Policy and Electric Utility Regulation: This class will introduce the basics of electricity law and the traditional framework for electric utility regulation in the U.S., and how it has evolved in the last century. We'll discuss the role of the federal government, states and cities in shaping climate and clean energy policy, and the basics of utility regulatory legal practice. Class will wrap with a small group exercise that illustrates stakeholder perspectives and common issues that arise in state utility regulatory cases.

Assigned Materials:

- Electricity Regulation in the US – Intro, and Chapters 1-3 (pp. 1-24) (Purpose of Utility Regulation; A Brief History of Regulation; Industry Structure)
- Energy Law in a Nutshell – Chapter 3, excerpts of Sections F and G (Federal Energy Regulation; Energy Regulation by States): pp. 142-145, 147-152 (sub-section 3); 153-157