CLASS TIME AND OFFICE HOURS:

Class meets on Mondays and Wednesdays from 12:45pm to 2:00pm in Oakes 110. We will start and end on time and attendance will be taken.

I am typically available in the classroom for at least 10 minutes before and after class (if no other class is using the room). In addition, please feel free to stop by my office any time that is convenient for you – if I am there, and not in a meeting, I will make time for you. The best way for you to schedule an office hour with me is to contact me by email to schedule an in-person or virtual appointment.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

Lively classroom discussion will be prompted and encouraged. Please keep in mind that some criminal law and procedure discussion topics are particularly sensitive and comments should be thoughtful and considerate.

1. All members of the VLGS community, including professors, are expected to treat each other with respect. I want to promote an environment that avoids words/remarks or actions that show bias or prejudice based on age, disability, education or employment history, ethnicity, gender/gender identity, national origin, native language, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or socioeconomic status. I also want us to be able to engage in honest discourse. If you have any concerns about anything said or done in class, by me or by one of your colleagues, please talk to me about your concerns.
2. Classroom attendance is required. Students are expected to abide by the VLGS attendance policy as set out in Academic Regulations Section II(A) of the student handbook which reads, in part: “Students are required by Vermont Law and Graduate School and by the ABA to maintain regular and punctual attendance in all classes... Students who are absent from twenty (20%) percent of the regularly scheduled classes or who fail to complete required hours for other work shall be automatically withdrawn from the course with a grade of F-Wd.” Although Teams access to the class will always be available, watching class over Teams does not count as attendance. Watching class over Teams counts as an absence.
3. I may modify pre-class assignments during the semester as current events, time, and interest necessitate. I will post any additional class materials on Canvas. I will notify you of any changes to the syllabus in class, via Canvas, and/or via your VLGS email so please check both regularly.
4. You are not permitted to use your phone or access the internet during class unless specifically requested/directed to do so for an in-class assignment.
5. Assignments/Assessments/Grading:

You will have two (2) short, timed, open note/book, take-at-home quizzes during the semester. These two assessments will be worth 40% of your final grade.

During the semester you will write an outline for a Motion to Suppress that will be worth 20% of your grade.

The semester will end with an in-class, three-hour Final Exam worth 40% of your grade.

The Registrar's Office will be provided with the quiz/exam schedule in advance and will plan for and provide all accommodations.

6. If you have a disability and would like to request an accommodation, please review the VLGS Disability Policy at

<https://www.vermontlaw.edu/community/students/academic-success/accommodations>

On that webpage, there is an on-line form to complete and upload with your supporting documentation. If you have questions, please make an appointment with the Vice Dean for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion. Please note that requests made within two weeks of an examination may not be granted in time. Please make your request as soon as possible.

CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS AND VALUES:

1. Show sensitivity to the subject matter and to each other;
2. Remember that we have all had different/unique life experiences and none of us knows everything about anyone else's life experiences;
3. Assume best intentions in others and own your impact;
4. Be open to new ideas – the goal is not to chill or limit discussion but to remain considerate and professional even during disagreements;
5. Help create an environment in which it is okay to admit not knowing or understanding something and in which it is safe to make a mistake;
6. Be willing and unafraid to express concern if something is said that is troubling to you;
7. Be resilient – if you have a problem, try to figure out a way to solve it;
8. Take risks – speak up in class, ask questions in class (“step up”);
9. Be respectful of others – make space for others to speak; listen without interrupting (“step back”);
10. Come to class prepared to engage with the material and with each other.

COURSE OUTCOMES:

The goal of this course is that, by the end, students who engage with the material and actively participate in class will be able to:

1. Analyze the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution and the protections these Amendments afford;
2. Critically read and discuss the most important U.S. Supreme Court cases interpreting the meaning of the 4th, 5th, and 6th Amendments;
3. Discuss and balance competing policy objectives and purposes relevant to police practices and investigatory techniques under the 4th, 5th, and 6th Amendments (i.e., preserving individual liberties v. preserving order in society);
4. Critically analyze whether the cases, and the implementation of the rules in the cases and in the modern-day Criminal Legal System, achieve these purposes and whether they achieve these purposes equitably throughout our society;
5. Perform some of the skills needed to handle criminal cases (that are readily transferrable to other types of cases);
6. Answer the types of Criminal Procedure multiple choice questions you will see if you take a Bar Exam;
7. Demonstrate professionalism by discussing topics involving the investigation, policing, and prosecution of crimes in a respectful and ethical fashion, recognizing the extreme sensitivity of many areas of criminal law and procedure.
